The Normal Herald

Vol. XII. INDIANA, PA., MAY, 1906. No. 2.

Published Quarterly by the Trustees of the State Normal School, of Indiana, Pennsylvania.

To the Alumni and Friends of the School.

The Class of 1906 invites you to be present at the Exercises of Commencement week, June 24–27, 1906.

Features of Commencement.

Annual Sermon before the Christian Association, Sabbath, June 17, at 8. p. m., in the Normal Chapel, by Rev. R. M. Russell, D. D.

Baccalaureate Sermon. Sabbath, June 24, at 11 a. m., in the Presbyterian Church, by Rev. Robert Christie, D. D.

Commencement Concert, Monday evening, June 25.

Business Meeting of the Alumni, Tuesday, June 26, at 9 a. m.

Class Day Exercises, Tuesday, June 26, at 2 p. m.

Alumni Banquet, Tuesday evening, June 26.

Commencement Exercises, Wednesday, June 27, at 9.30 a. m.

The trustees have earned the approval and esteem of the alumni and other friends of education by promptly adopting plans and contracting for a new boys' dormitory to rise upon the site and with the general characteristics of the first.

That building was found by experience to have been admirably arranged for the convenience of the students and of those in charge. The windows were wide, affording very attractive views and contributing to the cheerfulness of the rooms. The size and shape of the rooms permitted a surprising variety in the arrangement of the furniture. The toilet arrangements were more convenient than in many first class hotels, and reduced temptation to disorderly conduct to a minimum.

The plans for Silas M. Clark Hall No. 2 have been drawn with a full appreciation of these facts and with the purpose to introduce as many improvements as financial considerations will permit. Fire walls will be introduced and the heat will be supplied from outside. The architectural effect will be heightened by the use of porches and of varied color scheme from foundation to roof. It is hoped that it will be in appearance the most attractive building upon the campus. The fact that Mr. E. M. Lockard has the contract guarantees to the school a full execution of the plans in spirit as well as in letter. The work will be pushed to completion as early as possible in the Fall, but not by the fourth of September. Meanwhile abundant provision for all the young men is made near the school.

The departure of Miss Mansfield from San Francisco for Manila upon an army transport was scheduled for Monday, April 16th. As no information to the contrary has been received it is presumed that she had been thirty-six hours, at least, at sea at the time of the earthquake. No accounts have been received of serious oceanic disturbance. It may be inferred therefore that Miss Mansfield was most fortunate in her escape.

For twenty years Miss Mansfield has been connected with the Normal School, which profited not only by her work as a critic teacher but also by her high ideals, her breadth of mind, and the culture belonging to one whose grandfather was the head of the department of Physics at West Point, whose father was a distinguished graduate of the same institution, and whose brother, now Colonel of the Second United States Infantry, is also an alumnus of the U. S. Military Academy.

Miss Mansfield bears with her to her distant home the warmest good wishes of her co-workers and the students and alumni of Indiana.

Professional Department.

"Circumstances, however difficult, are always — without exception — opportunities and not limitations."

"Three tokens of genius: Extraordinary understanding, extraordinary conduct, and extraordinary exertion."

"The three things that improve genius: Proper exertion, frequent exertion, successful exertion."

—Matthew Arnold.

Miss Christine M. Cameron, who fills the position of critic teacher in the third and fourth grades of the Model school, is an alumna of Indiana. After her graduation she engaged for some time in public and private school work. Becoming interested in the kindergarten phase of education, she entered the Kindergarten college of Pittsburg, and after completing the regular course, returned to pursue another year of post graduate work.

After several years of experience as superintendent of kindergarten work in Pittsburg, she accepted the position of associate principal of the Model school in the State Normal School, Mansfield, Pennsylvania.

By reason of her training, experience, and personality, Miss Cameron is most admirably suited for the position which she now holds in our school.

Miss Stewart, well known to many of our alumni, as critic teacher in the third and fourth grades of the Model school, has been elected to the position left vacant by the resignation of Miss Mansfield.

Although there is general regret over the loss of Miss Mansfield, it will be recognized by all, that in selecting a suitable successor, no better choice could have been made.

Miss Stewart has been associated with the Model school for several years, she is thoroughly in sympathy with the modern trend in education, and possesses the insight, tact, and skill which fit her to fill successfully the department in which she has been placed.

Among recent visitors in the Model school we note the names of Miss Clark, teacher in the public schools of Reynoldsville, Professor Schaeffer, principal of the high school, Falls Creek, Pa., Mrs. Langham, and Mrs King, of Indiana, and Dr. Waller, Mrs. Hubbard, Miss Barton, Miss Browning, and Miss Keep, of the Normal faculty.

Professor Marsh, superintendent of schools, Greensburg, Pa., who recently visited the Normal, expressed himself as especially interested in the Model school, and in the character of the work done by members of the Senior class. That he is looking for alert, wide awake, independent teachers, who can think for themselves, is shown by his question concerning a possible candidate for a position,—"Has she any ideas of HER OWN?"

Arbor Day was observed in the Model school on Friday, April the twenty-seventh, by appropriate exercises, consisting of recitations, readings, essays, and music. As the campus is so abundantly supplied with trees a departure from the usual custom was made, and vines were planted to cover the few places on Wilson Hall which are not yet clothed with green.

About sixty of the children are contestants for the prizes offered by the New Century Club, to those between the ages of nine and thirteen years, who are most successful in making and caring for gardens either flower or vegetable. The ladies provide the seeds and announce that a committee will visit the gardens from time to time during the summer, and will award the prizes in the early fall. A positive condition is that all of the work connected with the preparing of the soil, the planting of the seeds, and the caring for the garden, must be done entirely by the children.

Eleven dollars has been contributed by the Model school for the relief of the sufferers from the San Francisco earthquake.

Alumni Notes.

The members of Class of 1896 are cordially invited to become the guests of the Board of Trustees for the exercises of Commencement Week. It is the hope of the Board and of the Faculty that there will be a unanimous acceptance. Let us see you all. D. J. WALLER, JR.

The following from the pen of the retiring editor is worthy of a permanent place in the Herald:

"If you know facts of general interest concerning yourself or other alumni, share your blessings and at once send them to the editor of the Herald. So shall you be spared tedious editorials and become that wonderful being 'A benefactor.'"

Alumni Association Officers:

President—Edward H. Sutton, Indiana, Pa.

Secretary—Edna Sansom, Indiana, Pa.

Treasurer—Alice Withington, Hollidaysburg, Pa.

We take from the Johnstown Journal of April 25, the following:

"Citizens of Johnstown have long known that the art department of the local schools is of a high standard and they will be pleased to learn that the work of a number of the pupils in the higher grades has attracted the attention of men of national reputation in art circles."

The teacher in charge of this art department is our Jean R. McElhaney, '85. We are pleased to note Miss McElhaney's success; it is the result of native ability, industry, and ambition.

Mary A. Work, '92, and Ruth A. Work, '97, are missionaries in Assiout, Egypt, and Miss Laura Walker in Cairo. All are reported to be getting along well.

Ruth Work writes that she, with the other younger missionaries, was having her semi-yearly examinations in Arabic, in February. She had set ninety-five per cent. for her standard and we doubt not that she attained it.

Miss Mary Clougher, '01, has the interesting experience of teaching a Hungarian minister and his wife the English language. That they are people of education is shown by the fact that since they have some knowledge of English, they talk to her on such subjects as solid geometry, trigonometry and literature.

Harry Condron, '92, Principal of the schools in Blairsville, and a candidate for county superintendent in the last election, will conduct a school in Blairsville this summer.

John Blue, '87, has been twice elected to the Indiana State Legislature and is at present employed as Michigan manager for the William Welch Company, the largest school supply company of Chicago, at a salary of $2,500 per year.

L. H. Hoffman, '00, holds a fine position as manager for Dodd, Mead & Co., Pittsburgh.

Miss Margaret Waller, '01, who graduates this year from Vassar College, will sail in June for Europe. The European trip is a commencement present from her aunt, Miss Waller, who will accompany her.

Mrs. Anna L. Fohl, '87, visited her cousin, Miss Anna Nicklas, during the last few days in April.

Miss Beatrice Graham, '05, is attending school at Oberlin.

Miss Crombie, '98, writes that she is enjoying her work at Redlands, Cal. She expects to attend the University of California this summer.

Miss Anna Graham, '05, recently spent a day with Indiana friends.

Thoughts.

'Twas long ago, in those boyhood days,
When the world was little and gay,
And I laughed and sang
'Till the old woods rang,
And frightened the squirrel away.

Each tree had a bird and each bird had a song,
And each song had a note for me,
And each note was filled
With a strain that thrilled
My soul with unbounded glee.

O'er hill, or through dale, whether woodland or field,
Where the brooklets complain or sing,
My wandering feet
Found a shady retreat,
And a moss-covered seat by the spring.

Ah! that was the time when the world was bright,
Because it was new you see,
When each step that I took
Would have filled up a book,
With the new it revealed to me.

They have passed, they have gone, they will never return,
Those years so sweet with joy;
There never will be
A time for me,
Like the time when I was a boy!

Alas for the things that are bright and fair!—
The watchers of midnight skies,
With noiseless feet
Beat a rapid retreat,
When the dawn begins to rise.

And day returns with its creak and clash
And clatter of common toil,
And beauty flies
With the midnight skies,
Or is crushed by the ceaseless moil.

There is no time for a leisure hour,
With the masters of bygone years,
And their voices ring,
Like a rusty string,
That falls on indifferent ears.

The morning of life was a pleasant one;
I will toil through the noonday strife,
And await the balm
Of the evening calm,
And the thoughts of a well spent life.

—B. E., '06.

Commercial Department.

The attendance of the Commercial department is still on the increase, there being more than twice as many students enrolled this term as were enrolled last spring term. The entire enrollment in this department this school year has been 84, last year the entire enrollment was 47, making an increase of about 80 per cent. This increase is largely due to advertising the department of which the alumni has done no small part. We started out with the hope of enrolling 100 this year but have not reached this number at the present writing. With your assistance we hope to pass the one hundred mark next year. Will you kindly send to the principals of the department the names of all young men or young women in your neighborhood who are thinking of taking a business course, and call their attention to the advantages of taking such a course at Normal.

The students of the Commercial department recently met in the Commercial Room and organized the class by electing the following officers:

President—Mr. Thos. L. Jones.

Secretary—Mr. Paul E. La Veen.

Treasurer—Miss Josephine E. Grosse.

Class colors selected—Dark blue and orange.

A ball team was organized with Mr. A. E. Milbert as captain and Mr. S. L. Lowrey manager. They expect to have some good games on the home grounds.

Among the recent graduates of the Commercial department are Mr. Ewin T. Parrish, of Cresson, Pa., employed as bookkeeper for the Pa. R. R.; Mr. Roy N. Brewer, of Punxsutawney, Pa., employed as bookkeeper for the Du Boyce Candy Co.; Miss Mary Lockard, of Indiana, Pa., bookkeeper for E. L. Lockard, architect and contractor; Miss Bertha Barron, law stenographer for Cunningham & Fisher; Mr. Geo. A. Evans, bookkeeper for Indiana Lumber and Supply Co.; Miss Eva A. Longwill, stenographer, Graceton, Pa.; Miss Ethel Altsman, Indiana, deceased; Mr. Orville Shirley, Indiana, Pa.; Mr. Orlando Oldham, teacher, Ursina, Pa.; Mr. J. S. Brown, principal 1st and 2nd ward school, Indiana, Pa.

Miss Blanche Waterson, of Indiana, and Miss Effa Duncan, of Creekside, will graduate this month. Miss Duncan is a Normal alumna of the class of '01. She is completing the Commercial Teachers' Training Course with a view to doing high school work in the Commercial department. Many of the students enrolled this term are former teachers who are taking this course preparatory to teaching the commercial subjects. Do thou likewise.

Huyghenian Society.

The Huyghenian Society has begun the spring term of '06 with a vigor that is hoped will continue. On the first night of society forty-five new members were admitted. Ten have been admitted since that, and at every meeting, so far, more have been present than could be seated.

The society is in a good condition financially. There is not a debt against the society and the treasury contains a good sum of money.

This term the society presented Clyde

Fitch's "Nathan Hale." It was pronounced a success by every one. Four sets of scenery were painted by members of the society under the direction of Dr. Holmes of the M. E. church.

The society has the distinction of having the first scenery ever used in the school.

Miss Peale drilled the players and this accounts for the quality of the production.

The society takes this opportunity of publicly expressing its thanks to Miss Peale and Dr. Holmes for their aid.

The Huyghenians are in better working condition at this time than at any time in the year, and look forward to a term of good work. J. P.

The Y. W. C. A.

The Y. W. C. Association has bright prospects of another year of useful work. The large room assigned by the trustees to the association last year has been newly painted, supplied with new curtains, and in other ways has been made to look very attractive.

In spite of the many out door attractions, our prayer-meetings have been well attended. Vocal music in the form of solos and quartets has been a new and attractive feature of these meetings. We have added 32 new members to our roll, making a total of 174 members.

Miss Myrtle Foale was our delegate to the Volunteer Convention at Nashville, Tennessee, and brought us a helpful report of the meetings. Miss Araminta McLane has been retained as the chairman of the Missionary Committee which has been doing splendid work for the association. The girls of this committee have been making delicious sandwiches, which they have for sale each Saturday afternoon and evening, and have also been looking after the systematic giving of two cents per week. By these two methods the committee has already raised $50 of the $100 which the association pledged for the support of Miss Batty in her work in Buenos Ayres, South America.

As in the past the association is taking an active part in the social life of the school. On the first Saturday afternoon of the term the New Student Committee held a reception for the new girls. On the following Monday evening the association held an Easter bazaar at which fancy articles of all sorts, candy, preserves of all kinds, cakes and hot chocolate were sold. A new feature of the bazaar was the selling of the cups and saucers as well as the chocolate which they contained.

At the business meeting in March the following new officers were elected:

President—Jane G. Wyman.

Vice President—Blanche Hillard.

Secretary—Helen H. Dill.

Corresponding Sec.—May Grundy.

Treasurer—Grace Buente.

Miss Leonard was retained as advisory president. H. H. D.

Erodelphian Literary Society.

The Erodelphian Literary Society has never experienced a more successful term. This has been proved both by the interest in the work and the results obtained.

The success of the season was the open meeting, which consisted of a comedy in three acts, entitled "A King's Daughter." Our large audience was both surprised and pleased with the comedy and pathos, which combined to hold their interest till the curtain went down for the last time. The scenery, which was painted for this occasion, and the special light effects, added greatly to the charm of the presentation. The caste included Misses Leah Dixon, Bertha Mensch, Louise Sellers, Ethel Seavey, Mary Moorhead, Anna St. Clair, Olive Black, Ruelba Lewis, Nora Hay, Grace Buente, Jean McIlroy, Edith Spencer, and dairy maids. G. C.

Recital.

On Friday evening, May 4th, a recital was given in the chapel by Mrs. Sawyer's graduating pupils, assisted by Miss Sauvage, Miss McCreight and Mr. Owens.

The chapel was filled and the excellent attention given by the large audience to the different numbers, was evidence of the high quality of the performances. Mrs. Sawyer always gives us an excellent program in her recitals and this year was no exception. The numbers given were all from the compositions of Beethoven, and at the close a series of pictures illustrative of the life of Beethoven were thrown upon the screen. The following is the program:

The Y. M. C. A.

The excellent executive ability of last year's president and the several visits of Mr. Miller, our State Secretary, have caused the Young Men's Christian Association to become a living factor in the school life at Normal. The meetings, which are held every Thursday evening, are full of enthusiasm.

The association was represented by Professor Fr. A. Hildebrand at the International Conference at Nashville, Tennessee; and by the following young men: Lee Niel, John Camp, Charles Steffy, Frank Coulter, R. C. Smith, Harry Bowman and Frank W. Woodward at the State Y. M. C. A. convention at Washington, Pennsylvania. The inspiration derived from these two conventions did much to increase the interest in Christian work among the young men.

Twelve of the new boys have become members of the association, while many of the members of former terms have come back. The prospects for a successful term's work are bright.

The Y. M. C. A. is in a very encouraging condition financially, there being about fifty-five dollars in the treasury, besides the dues of this term, which will probably amount to fifteen dollars.

The young men are planning to send at least two delegates to the summer conference at Northfield, Massachusetts.

Notice.

Inquiries for teachers to fill good positions are more frequent than ever before. Successful graduates desiring to obtain more lucrative positions are invited to notify the school to that effect. When writing state the present salary, and the least salary you would accept in a new position, also the particular kind of work desired. Address Dr. Waller.

Weddings.

Clara Edna Warnock, ’97, and Charles Painter Goehring were married at Larimer, on Thursday, Feb. 15, 1906. The Normal friends of Mrs. Goehring wish this newly married pair all possible good things.

Agnes May Thomson, 1901, and Mr. John Reid, Jr., were married Wednesday, April 25, 1906, in Pittsburg. Miss Thomson is a sister of Catherine W. Thomson, 1901, and Margaret Thomson of 1907. Mr. and Mrs. Reid will be at home after August 22, at 815 Southern Avenue, Mt. Washington, Pa.

Ford W. Wassam, ’05, and Grace S. Buterbaugh, of the same class, were married in Pittsburg, April 27. The young people taught together during the year just ended, in the schools of Cherrytree. Mr. Wassam is now teaching a summer school at Greenville.

The wedding of Miss Jennie Morrison, 1901, and Mr. Howard Donaldson took place lately, at the home of the bride’s parents, 2342 California Avenue, Allegheny, the Rev. G. W. MacDonald officiating. The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a gown of white crepe meteor and carried a shower boquet of brides’ roses and lilies of the valley. Miss Lida Morrison, a sister of the bride, was maid of honor. The other attendants of the bride were Miss Annie Evans, Miss Clara Stewart, Miss Manu Colvin, and Miss Florence Callen. Miss Annie Morrison, a sister of the bride, was flower girl. Mr. Herbert Love, a cousin of the groom, was best man. The house was beautifully decorated with palms, smilax and lavender hydrangeas.

Miss May Stevenson, '90, was married on Thursday, Feb. 8, 1906, to Mr. Arthur Benedict Bellows. The home of the newly wedded pair is in the East End, Pittsburg. Mrs. Bellows is a sister of Bessie Stevenson of '88 and Sadie Stevenson Carroll, deceased, who graduated in '86. This young couple have our very warmest wishes for their happiness.

Dr. Thomas St. Clair, '96, who is now a prominent physician of Latrobe, was married April 25, 1906, to Miss Emma Wilson Howard, of Hagerstown, Maryland. Frank St. Clair, '97, brother of the groom, was the best man.

Deaths.

Died at Elizabeth, on Saturday, Feb. 3, 1906, of pneumonia, John N. Radcliffe, '90. Mr. Radcliffe was a lawyer in Pittsburg, and although but thirty-eight years old had already a large practice and a high position at the bar of that city. He leaves a wife and two children, Leona and John. He was a brother of Ralph Radcliffe, 1902, who is now principal of one of the Pittsburg schools.

The death recently of Andrew W. Kimmel, takes from us the last member of our original Board of Trustees, excepting one, Gen. Harry White. Mr. Kimmel, from the organization of the school, gave it his faithful attention and the benefit of his wide knowledge of business affairs. He served two terms in the legislature and was afterwards employed at the Philadelphia Custom House for many years. He was in Washington during the Civil War and made thousands of friends among the sick and wounded soldiers of the army by many acts of kindness and constant attentions. Mr. Kimmel was eighty-four years of age. His tall and venerable figure was a familiar sight which we shall recall with gratitude and regret.

Corabelle Siebert, 1904, died at the family residence in Wilkinsburg on Tuesday, Janurary 30, 1906, after a two weeks' illness of typhoid fever. Miss Siebert was a young woman, beautiful in character as she was in appearance and manner. Her high standing in the school, her reserve of manner, her ability as a student, her capacity for friendship and her high aims led us to expect for her a noble future. After she left Indiana, she became a teacher in the public schools of Wilkinsburg, but for the past two years she taught in the schools of Pittsburg. Her short but severe illness had really begun before she laid down her work. The Herald wishes to express to her sorrowing family the sympathy of the Normal friends of whom Miss Siebert had so many.

Rev. J. M. Welch, pastor of the Second United Presbyterian church of Indiana, of which Sadie Hare was a member, has written an extended appreciation of her, which was published in all the papers of her church. The following brief extract will appeal to many of our students of last summer. "God had made her beautiful and had bestowed grace and charm upon her, and among her several hundred schoolmates had given her the sweetest voice of all for singing. It is a pleasure to recall how she sang at class day, one of the best things of the occasion, and how pretty she looked besides. The melody selected was something appropriate to her optimistic nature and to her sensitive and sweetly tuned heart."

All Fools' Day.

Sunday, April 1, 1906.

Oh day of jokes and laughing lies
From early morn till dewy eve,
When all our ears and thoughts and eyes
In vain, endeavor to deceive.

Why come you on a day of grace
When jokes profane, and idle jests,
On thy day made, seem out of place
And children chafe to fool the guests?

Why come you when the mails don't run?
Thou spoil'st all jokes on this account,
The point is lost of long saved fun
Which on thy day 'd be paramount?

Joke not with us in such a way,
O April first—To us fools' day.

R. P. W., '02.

Normal Notes.

Our former student, Mr. Royden J. Taylor, of Indiana, was called home from his position in Salt Lake City on account of the death of his mother. In order to be near his father and sister in their great bereavement he decided to remain in the east, and has taken a position at Heilwood in Indiana county.

Mr. Edwin S. Rickert, principal of the Brier Hill school, Youngstown, Ohio, visited Prof. Hildebrand lately. Prof. Rickert is the promoter of the school bank in the State of Ohio, and is one of the instructors at the University of Wooster Summer School. He was very favorably impressed with the school, and was especially pleased with the work in the Manual Training Department.

Dr. Waller was one of the judges at the preliminary oratorical contest in Westminster College, New Wilmington, Pa., held April 12th. Mrs. Waller accompanied him, and they report a very pleasant time in the old college town.

The large east window has at last been placed in the New Presbyterian church, and dedication day has been set for May 20th.

The Seniors started on their special excursion to Washington on Monday, May 14th. About twenty-five members of the class and a number of alumni and friends made up the party.

Miss Edith Nichol, Mr. Thomas Hill, Miss Keep, and Miss Cameron are the recent additions to the Faculty.

It will be believed that the class of 1906 made generous provisions for their guests on the evening of Washington's Birthday when it is known that they served one gallon of peanut butter, seventy five loaves of bread, fourteen pounds of butter and twenty-four cakes of cheese. For punch, they used a box of oranges, a box of lemons and a large bunch of bananas.

The girls to whom tennis has heretofore been a mystery, are fast learning the game under Prof. Gordon's coaching.

Miss Nan Tomb, of Wilkinsburg, a former student, visited friends lately in town and at the school.

The choral society under the direction of Prof. Smith, assisted the Presbyterian choir in the concert given on April 20. Prof. Smith has organized a choral class at Marion Center, and he also trained a choir at Irwin for their Easter music.

Prof. A. M. Hammers and wife, with Dr. James S. Hammers, entertained over two hundred of their friends on March 29. They received their guests in their beautiful rooms in Thomas Sutton Hall, and refreshments were served in the Dining Hall.

Grayson Matthews, a former Indiana Normal student, is taking a Civil Engineering course at U. of P.

The Rev. Dr. Hubbard, Vice President of the American Peace Society, of Boston, delivered a lecture to the pupils of the school on the morning of May 5th, after chapel. His subject was "Universal Peace." The lecture was very interesting and was enjoyed by all. Mr. Hubbard was one of the delegates to the Peace Conference at Luzerne, Switzerland, last year. His wife is teacher of composition at the school, and will be remembered as Miss McBride, instructor of composition for several years at Indiana Normal.

Prof. Hildebrand takes up his work at the University of Wooster, at the close of this term. Mr. Hildebrand is a very popular instructor, this being his sixth year's work at Wooster.

Mrs. C. B. Robertson recently spent a day with Indiana friends. Prof. and Mrs. Robertson expect to be with us at commencement time.

Dr. Waller has bought a cottage at Muskoka Lake, and with his family will spend the summer there.

Dr. Wm. G. Hubbard has visited Mrs. Hubbard several times during the last two terms. Dr. Hubbard gave an excellent talk in the Sunday evening prayer meeting on March 4th.

Dean Southwick, of the Emerson School of Oratory, will read Shakespeare's "Twelfth Night" before the school some night in May.

The Seniors are to be congratulated for their originality in departing from the customs of former class days. Instead of the regular class day exercises, the class of '06 expects to give Shakespeare's "As You Like It," out on the campus, which surely offers a lovely setting for such a play. It seems like quite a large undertaking, but under the direction of Miss Peale, it is certain to be a success.

Mr. Eli Wolf, a nephew of Dr. Walter Mitchell, visited the school on May 2. Mr. Wolf is in the Real Estate business at Monessen, Pa.

The State Board comes to Indiana on the twentieth of June.

The following new teachers have been selected for the coming year:

Mrs. Hubbard continues her service to the school.

Prof. Cogswell, a widely known musician and who was to have had charge of the music for the N. E. A. at San Francisco, has been elected to take full charge of the Musical Department which is to be greatly enlarged in its scope.

Prof. Smith, who has had charge of vocal music and voice culture, returns to Columbus, O., where he will conduct his own school.

Mr. Kemper Sutton, a graduate of Princeton, who has made a specialty of chemistry, takes charge of the Department of Chemistry in place of Miss Browning who goes to Ann Arbor to specialize for a degree.

Mr. Thomas Hill, '05, has been elected to teach algebra in place of Miss Moody who goes to New Amsterdam, New York, to teach Latin and Greek.

Athletics.

The Base-ball season was opened on April 24th. The strong Johnstown Tri-State team defeated the Normal boys in a very fast game, 6–3.

The Normal team this year is quite strong, and will win many games before the season closes.

On Saturday, April 28th, the Apollo Elks defeated Normal 4–1, but had the game been played on better grounds, and had the umpire been strictly fair in his rulings, the story would have been different. It is to be regretted that so many umpires seem unable to avoid showing favoritism to the home team.

On Thursday, May 3d, the Normal boys won their first game. In a very close and exciting game the Pittsburgh College team went down to defeat. The features of the game were Lytle's drive for three bases and the work of both King and Kummer. The following are the summaries of the three games:

NORMAL	R.	B.	P.	A.	E.
